

ARE YOU BRAVE ENOUGH TO FACE THE UNKNOWN ?

You've heard about VanLife. But have you ever heard about CarLife ?
Slow paced, informative, thought-provoking, and deranged from the Neuron, this Series should Inspire You.

When I decided to turn my basic car into a mobile home, I thought I was doing it for fun. Thought again !

The Sandero is equipped with a full-size bed, a solar panel, a real fridge, an outdoor shower and storage spaces..

The plan is to travel from the South of France to Norway over several months, living off the grid, cooking, washing and sleeping in the nature.

There is only one problem : the humid air, stinging rain, cutting cold, severe wind, and complete lack of amenities, are about to teach me a drastic life lesson.

Aficionado of minimalism and Buddhism, this journey is also an occasion to share some of the deeper wisdom this strange experience brings to light.
